While the financial condition of the country is always more or less reflected by the condition of the great stock markets, leaving foreign considerations aside the trades are frequently dull in times of the highest exhiliration in stocks, and vice versa. During the week recently ended there has been found much among the trades to inspire confidence as to the future, and in some directions, little of a favorable nature—at least, for the present. Among the retail dealers it appears that there is a wide diversity in the various tradea, the details from different points, presenting, on the whole, a conflicting and varying mass, of which it is hard to draw any reliable deduction. The main facts disclosed are, first, a marked improvement within the past month, and a considerable excess over the business done a year ago, paragularly in the necessaries of life. But, scond, it appears that the volume of trade at present is, on the whole, considerably less than in a normal year at most points, and in the more important trades is apparently about 29 per cent, smaller than in September, 1892.

Effects of Thurder and Lichteins.

Lady Landsdowne had both humor and intellect; no one enjoyed Bowles's good stories more than she did, judging from all we gather of those pleasant days. There were occasions when she is said to have "roasted" her dear oid friend the canon. He became very absentminded and nervous in his later years, and was always singularly alarmed by thunder and lightning. I have been told that when a widower he was once staying at Bowood, when a terrific storm came on shortly after the guests had retired for the night. Lady Lansdowne was startled by hearing his bell ringing violently while she was undreating, and she at once sent her own maid to see what was wrong. After rapping at the door, the young woman was admitted, and said:

"Mr. Bowles, her Ladyship has sent me to see what is the matter. Is there anything I can do for you, Sir?"

"Oh, yea," said the old gentleman, in a state of abject terror. "I'll give you a guinea of you'll stop here and sleep in the room."

The maid went back laughing to her mistress, to whom she told what had occurred, and at breakfasy the next morning Lady Lansdowne chaffed the good cannon unmercifully, to the amusemeet of every one present.—Mrs. Cross in Temple Bar.

SOME OF THE MEN WHO HAVE WON PROMINENCE IN BALTIMORE.

Mutations Wrought by Father Time in Twenty Years-In the Field of Electricity.

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 13th.—Special. One's return to a great metropolis after an absence of twenty years is attended with mingled feelings of sadness and gladners. Hugh Brent, formerly of Alexandria, Va., but now of the firm of Pearre Bros. & Co., and I strolled down to the Imperial Hotel, so named because now owned by Charles Joseph Bonaparte, of Baltimore, a nepnew of the first great Emperor of France; thinking to find a bit of news for The Times. There, among the wealthy bankers then assembled in Baltimore, many of whom were seated at supper with their ladies in the beautiful dining-hall, and the brilliant chandelier that shone upon the handsome women attired in rich gowns of slik and glittering jewels, presented a scene of dizzling brightness and splendor; and recalled the joily parties here twenty years ago, with suppers of blue-wing and oysters and terrapin to a turn. There were John and Jim Crane, of the firm of William Crane & Sons, who had many friends in Richmond, and who were the life and soul of these joily parties, now passed over the river of death, as also their partners in the firm, Fuller Crane and the noble Andrew Loundes, all from Virginia and

Men and friends disappear from the theatre of busy life and the ranks are closed by others who come in and take their places, just as the new and magnificent buildings in the progress of a greately like this spring up on the sites of the old-time crumbling houses. There is the nine-story Fidelity and Deposit building on Charles street, of solid granite and cost a million dollars, where a few years ago stood a small brick tenement. The ten-story Equitable building of marble and sand-stone where stood old Barnum's Hotel; the unique clothing house of Mabley & Carew, with whole side and front of massive, oval-snaped glass, where stood several years ago a one-story cigar stand, and the magnificent new seven-story elevator building of the Baltimore Herald, now being erected on the sight of the old dilapidated Man-

Speaking of the Cranes of Virginia, Henry Crane, a gallant member of the old Richmond Howitzers is here, and secretary of the Maryland Life Insurance Company, and Charles T. Crane, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchanis National Bank, and a prominent officer of the old Maryland club. Colonel W. A. Boykin of Virginia, is one of the most popular cluses of Baltimore and commandant of Maryland's crack regiment, the famous Fitth, which has drilled in nearly all of the large cities of the United States, and is noted for its excellent discipline as demonstrated last summer when Goybrown ordered them to Frostburg. The command is 880 strong and within four hours after they received marching orders 51 per cent of the regiment were in line with 24 hours cooked, rations. I found Colonel Charles Marshall in his office, yesterday, who looks remarkably well for one of his age. He has just returned from an extended European tour and received many cordial greetings from his friends here. I met Prof. Gildersleve in his office at the Johns Hopkin's University the other day, He looks not very much alder than when I knew him at the University of Virginia in the seventies. Brilliant Weddings.

If in the spring of young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love, "then in the fall his thoughts turn to the more serious subject of marriage, for this has been a season of many prominent marriages. A large and fashlonable audience witnessed one of the most beautiful weddings of the season last night at St. Peter's Episcopal cnurch, Mr. Wm. F. Sutton, to Miss Lizzle Mercer Porter. Miss Lelia Fox, of Richmond was one of the bridesmalls. The groom is a son of Mr. R. M. Sutton who is reputed to be worth hearly a million dollars and who has for years been very prominent in commercial circles here, being regarded as one of the abiest financiers in this country. He is a Virginian to the manor bern and is pre-eminently proud of his native State. He takes an active part in all movements for the benefit of Confederate soldiers and has never turned a deaf ear to any benevolent enterprise gotten up in their behalf. Mrs. Mary Balley Fowler, of Georgia, well-known in Richmond, White Sulphur, Alleghany and Blue Ridge society is wintering at the Albion Hotel on Cathedral street. Her father was for many terms a member of Congress and also of his State Senate, and was in many of the old State Conventions with Bob Toombs, Stevens and Ben, Hill. IN THE FIELD OF ELECTRICITY.

IN THE FIELD OF ELECTRICITY.

What scientific strides are being made in the wonderful field of electricity! I was down at Howard and Montgomery streets yesterday, where the new Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company's power-house, to be used in connection with lighting the Belt-Line tunnel and the propelling of the cars through the tunnel by electricity, will occupy the entire block between rienrietta and Montgomery streets, and Howard street and the Baltimore and Ohio tracks. Perhaps the most important work being done in the electrical field anywhere is in Baltimore, where a powerful electric plant, to be used for motive power to haul the trains of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad through the Belt tunnel, is now nearly completed. This gigantic electric motor is a revolution in underground railroading, and in a few months faltimore will have the first electrical lecomotive put in actual successful practice in America. As there will be no smoke in the tunnel it will be possible to paint it white and as it will be lluminated by about 2,000 incandescent lamps it will got be neces-

The Pure Food Exposition, which was opened on last Monlay night, is a great attraction here now, and as a plan on the part of the Grocers' Association of Baltimore to advertise their goods, it is a great success. It will be opened in Richmond on the 5th of November next, and will afford lots of fun for everybody to see the pretty girls attired in cooking array and dealing out the samples of their various dishes, which they cook themselves in your presence with their dainty hands.

There were over 2,600 persons there last night, and under the strains of a grand orchestra all "went merry as a marriage bell."

MAN HESTER MATTERS.

MANCHESTER BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES, 1121 HULL STREET, BLATTIE BLOCK.

Itl21 Hull Street, Blattis Block.

The chain-gang was organized yesterday in this city with tweive recruits, and the number will be increased from day to day until the tramps keep away from this side of the James.

Yesterday morning Mayor Maurice had presented before him tweive able-bodied young men cone colored), hailing from all sections of the country.

This gang was captured Friday night by Officers Smith and Wright near the coal shute on the Southern railroad, where they had made a bright fire and were apparently enjoying themselves, and placed in a cell in the station house. The Mayor ordered that they be put in the chain-gang for thirty days and put to work on the streets. For good behavlor they will get only ten days.

This is in accordance with the city ordinace, and will be the means of ridding the city of a nuisance which has been perpetrated upon it for some time by this class of people. This was the outcome of a meeting of the Police Commissioners Friday night after the adjournment of the Council.

Most of the Johns Hopkin's professors are members of this club and here the duly accredited stranger is received with a hospitable welcome and the entente cordiale is regaily bestowed. Non-treating among its members is an admirable feature of this club. This is the intellectual or literary club and to be a college graduate is a requisite to membership. Mr. J. D. A large Democratic club has been organized here, with C. D. Holland, president, which holds weekly meetings, at which addresses are made. The club was addressed last Saturday night by Judge Johnson, J. M. Sanders and R. Haden Penn. Hons. John W. Daniel and Joseph Wysor, of Virginia, and Allen O. Myer have been asked to address this club. Senator Daniel will, in all probability, be in this section at a large barbecue to be held at Graham. Many Republicans, as well as Democrats of this State are anxious to hear the eloquent Senator. A general lethargy seems to prevail among the Republicans. They seem to have no speakers in this end of the State, and it is said that Mr. Huhling, their candidate for Congress, cannot make a speech. Mr. Alderson, the Democratic candidate, is a man of great personal magnetism and makes an excelent speech, and perhaps no man in the State has a larger personal following or more devoted friends than himself, in his own district.
